

Poof

How convenient it would be to really be able to have this become a reality. One could just wish to be something else and poof, change happens. Frankly, I would love to be able to do this, but we all know it takes real work to change a person from FAT to SKINNY. That is reality and no one can do otherwise. Today, some people really don't like the way they are, so the new trend is just to call reality something else. If someone is homosexual, they just change the terminology and poof- things are changed (in their mind only). The same could be said for the crippled (handicapped) the blind (visually-challenged) or the retarded (slow). Unlike those in the previous sentence, those who are homosexual have a choice; they can acknowledge their choice to sin and change. I can't help but think of the first book of the Bible when I think of these things; God said...

Genesis 1 ( World English Bible )

<sup>26</sup> God said, “Let us make man in our image, after our likeness: and let them have dominion over the fish of the sea, and over the birds of the sky, and over the livestock, and over all the earth, and over every creeping thing that creeps on the earth.” <sup>27</sup> God created man in his own image. In God’s image he created him; male and female he created them.

What God has created, HE has created. Reality is: You can't not change what you are by renaming your "identity", you must change your ways. Accept that fact and call things what they are; you won't waste your time fighting God – you can't win.
